I'm not really sure what I would like to do at all. Maybe something similar to App or Web development? But I also enjoy the idea of cyber security, maybe not the execution of it. I just don't see myself in that kind of work place (at least the calls and/or complaints?). But I would like to do something that is art related in a way. I really enjoy making art so I'd love to make something to help/create art.
